

Call For Papers

The annual Crosscurrents conference will be held at the University of Strathclyde on 18-20th April 2008 (funded by the AHRC Centre for Irish and Scottish Studies). The conference provides a forum for postgraduates and research fellows who are working in the field of Scottish and/or Irish Studies. The conference welcomes interdisciplinary research in literature, cultural studies, history, celtic studies, film studies, politics, geography, and sociology. We are interested in receiving proposals for 20 min papers and topics may include, but are not limited to:

- Scotland and Ireland in theory (particularly post theory – postmodernism, postnationalism, postcolonialism, postfeminism)
- Devolution in Scottish and Irish Studies
- Diaspora in Scotland and Ireland
- Identity, gender, and sexuality
- Language and marginalisation
- Visual representations of Scotland and Ireland
- Place and space

Please send abstracts of 300 words to aimee.mcnair.100@strath.ac.uk
or to:

“Crosscurrents”
Department of English Studies
University of Strathclyde
Livingstone Tower
26 Richmond Street
Glasgow
G1 1XH

